A Message from VSAC's Board Chair and President

It has been a year of collaboration, achievement and leadership at VSAC as we begin to see meaningful progress on a number of fronts that will help Vermonters of all ages access the education and training they need for better career and life opportunities.

Collaboration paid off in our first-ever FAFSA Completion Initiative. The FAFSA, or Free Application for Federal Student Aid, unlocks grants and institutional aid, making education more affordable for Vermonters. VSAC and its state partners—the Agency of Education, Vermont State Colleges and University of Vermont—finished with a 5 percent increase in the yearlong campaign. There was no shortage of achievements either, and we invite you to read about them in the following pages.

VSAC's leadership was on display at work and in the community. Here are a few who were called upon to serve here in Vermont and nationally:

- Tom Little was selected by Governor Scott to co-chair the Marijuana Commission.
- Jaye O'Connell was selected by the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education to represent guaranty agencies during negotiated rule-making.
- Liam Danaher received the Golden Apple Award from Winooski High School.
- · Lindsay Carpenter won the 2017 New TRIO Professional Award.
- Marti Kingsley won the Jack Anderson Distinguished Service Award.
- Many more of us serve on school boards, planning commissions, nonprofit boards and other civic organizations.

Collaboration, achievement and leadership are the key to creating economic and civic vitality of Vermont through education attainment. Our new statewide initiative, 70x20225vt is up and running strong—with the bold goal to see that 70 percent of Vermonters will hold a degree or credential of value by 2025.

The urgency to act is palpable. Employers are struggling to find qualified, skilled Vermonters to fill positions with increasing technical skills. VSAC helps Vermonters to choose the right education and training—and we help them pay for it.

We know that those with education after high school are more likely to be financially secure, have healthy and stable families, and be engaged in their communities. We know Vermont employers are facing a skills shortage, one that will get worse, not better without action.

70x2025 is a big goal, but we believe one we can reach by working together and using Vermont's power of cooperation, coordination, and collective wisdom and action. We invite you to join us.
