

Resources for Adults Spring 2020

We're here for you!

As community members, our first concern is that you and everyone you care about is safe and healthy. Staying at home to protect our family and neighbors has caused countless changes to our lives. We're all adjusting to this time at home, and the Educational Opportunity Center (EOC) program at VSAC wants to provide resources for you to continue working toward your goals. As you transition to online learning or are consider courses or training as a next step in life, we have resources to support your efforts.

Strategies for online learning success:

Online learning is becoming an increasingly common option for those pursuing higher education. Here are some tips provided by our friends at Champlain College.

Meeting your new technology needs:
